SUPPORT FOR PUPILS: Children at Pirton Primary School, where the official launch took place, spell out the number 3,500 which represents the potential number of children who could benefit from the introduction of the £190,000 funding boost from London Luton Airport Ltd. The money will be used to help children from low income families

Fund to help 3,500 school children

AROUND 3,500 school children are set to benefit from a boost to a grant supporting primary schools in Luton.

London Luton Airport Ltd (LLAL) has pledged £190,000 to the Supporting Primary School Pupils' Fund, which helps pupils from low income families.

Schools will be allocated between £600 and £10,000 based on how many of their pupils qualify for free school meals.

Parents of qualifying children can apply for a £50 grant.

The fund was officially launched at Pirton Hill Primary School, where 40 per cent of their pupils would be eligible for financial assistance.

The school's headteacher, Debbie Thompson, said: "We were delighted to participate in the launch of the Supporting Primary School Pupils' Fund, as we have a large number of families who would benefit from this additional financial support."

"It will mean that their children will no longer have to miss out and can have a better quality of life by giving them the chance to experience new activities through our wide ranging after school clubs, or to go on residential and school trips or even being able to enhance their musical talents."

Complaint over 'pumped up' busway user figures

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE former leader of the Luton Conservative Association is to lodge a formal complaint with the council's chief executive over comments that estimates for the expected number of journeys in the busway's first year were 'embellished' and 'pumped up'.

John Young, the Tory council candidate for the Bramingham Ward, said he would be writing to Luton council chief Trevor Holden for clarification on the remarks made by a councillor.

During a radio interview on Tuesday, Cllr Dave Taylor said a business case submitted to the Government in 2008, with estimates on the expected journey numbers for the £91 million Luton Dunstable Busway's first year, had been 'pumped up' and 'embellished'.

Luton council has revealed that there have been 1,040,000 busway passenger journeys between its opening on September 25 last year and the end of June this year, compared to three million estimated in the submitted document for the whole year.

Cllr Taylor had said: "The figures in 2008 were ambitious. When you're putting a business case to the Government you're not going to understate your case, you're going to embellish. When you have a crystal ball you can see [the figures] but unfortunately we don't have a crystal ball."

Mr Young said he had been 'disgusted' by the comments and felt the busway had not met its aims.

He said: "Every time I drive next to the busway in my car I look to see what's on it and apart from the rush hour there are not many people on the buses. And the traffic as far as I can see is still the same."

"In the letter I will be asking about the embellishment comments since he [Mr Holden] is in charge of Luton council and if we don't get a satisfactory answer then it will go to the ombudsman and then to the Public Accounts Committee."

Mr Young's sentiments have been echoed by Cllr David Franks, leader of the Liberal Democrats in Luton, who said in addition to there being 'issues' around the numbers for the busway, he was more concerned with its impact on traffic.

Cllr Franks said: "The effect that the busway has had on the rush hour with people coming in and out of the town as far I can see is none at all."

Luton on Sunday attempted to contact Cllr Dave Taylor several times and left messages but he had not returned our calls at the time of going to press.

The council said it believed Cllr Taylor may have been referring to an 'optimistic scenario' and that in 2008 the Government had not raised 'any concerns about the economic assumptions made'.

A spokesman said: "The key point made by Cllr Taylor is that at the time we submitted the business case for the busway in February 2008, the recession had not started and the Council's nationally-recognised transport economists were making what we and the Department for Transport's economists believed to be reasonable assumptions about what the economy would be like, in terms of the increase in the number of homes, jobs and airport growth which would drive transport demand and usage."

TV show lifts lid on life at Luton police station

BY CARL MUNGAZI
 carl.mungazi@lutonsunday.co.uk

AN IN-DEPTH documentary following life at Luton police station's custody suite is set to air tomorrow on Channel 4.

The controversial show, which has been opposed by some campaigners in the town, is the first in a 20-part series called '24 Hours in Police Custody'.

It was filmed earlier this year and provides an intimate look at the pressures and challenges faced by Bedfordshire Police officers as they deal with the variety of suspects who come through the station.

The first episode, showing at 9pm, focuses on the Atif Ali attempted murder investigation as detectives arrest Mahboob Baig in the early hours of the morning.

Former holiday rep Detective Constable Martin Hart and Detective Sergeant Chris Hutton then question Mr Baig, who by this time has called his solicitor Attiq Malik.

What follows is an intriguing interview which Mr Malik likens to 'a game of poker'. Mr Baig was later cleared of all charges when the case came to court.

In the show, DC Hart offers a glimpse into the mind of a detective when he says 'murder is normally over drugs, money or women'. There is also a moment which will probably raise a few eyebrows among viewers when one of the detectives refers to a witness in a case as 'a bit of skirt' during an interview.

Looking forward to tomorrow's screening, Mr Malik said: "I think it will be a very unique show quite simply because it's the first time that cameras have gone into that part of the station, and particularly into the interview room."

The show has been criticised by Liberty Louise, from the Justice 4 Leon Briggs campaign. She feels the show is 'inappropriate'.

She said: "It's coming out a week before his inquest and a month before the anniversary of his death."

Colette Paul, Chief Constable of Bedfordshire Police, said work had begun on the project before Mr Briggs' death in police custody last year. She had reviewed the decision and felt it was the 'right thing' to go ahead with it.

Ms Paul said the force had a legal agreement with the production company that nothing related to Mr Briggs' case would be aired.

Motorists warned of delays during roadworks

MOTORISTS heading for London Luton Airport and into Luton town centre via M1 Junction 10a are urged to allow extra time for journeys during overnight road closures from 8pm-6am.

Overnight on Monday 29 and Tuesday 30 September inclusive, the M1 spur road will be closed eastbound (towards the airport) between junction 10 and Kidney Wood roundabout.

Traffic will not be able to leave the M1 at J10 and will instead be diverted into Luton via Junction 11. Traffic will however still be able to join the M1 at J10.

Overnight on Wednesday 1 and Thursday 2 October the same stretch will be closed westbound (towards the M1) between Capability Green and J10. During these times traffic will be able to leave but not join the M1 at J10, and motorists will again be diverted via J11. Overnight on Thursday October 2, the M1 southbound entry slip road will also be closed at J10.

Motorists are reminded that narrow lanes, cones and speed restrictions remain in place throughout the area at all times, and to allow extra time for their journeys. The restrictions are necessary as part of long-awaited major works to improve reliable journey times through M1 J10a.

Luton Borough Council's £30million scheme, is tackling significant queues and congestion experienced at the junction by removing the existing roundabout and widening the M1 spur road and New Airport Way (A1081) to three lanes in each direction between Junction 10 and Capability Green.

Comeback album and video for reggae star

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A REGGAE music legend living in Luton has announced his comeback with a new album featuring local and international talent.

General Saint, real name Winston Hislop, was one-half of the popular 1980s duo Eastwood & Saint who enjoyed chart success with their two albums Two Bad DJ (1981) and Stop That Train (1983).

Now more than 30 years after the release of his last album, Saint has said he working on a new project which includes songs with Aiyana-Lee, the granddaughter of Motown legend Jimmy Ruffin, and local singer Learnna Pollard.

It will also have a track recorded with rock singer Sylvia Tella.

The album, which has not got a release date yet, is being produced by Saint's Blujeanz record label.

The 54-year-old musician said: "It's going to be fantastic and I'm excited and really expectant at the moment."

"The album's lyrically really, really good and for me, I think, I am penning my masterpiece."

"It's all happening through Blujeanz, which I am trying to push out there because the label is about giving young people a chance to express themselves.

HIGH NOTE: Saint with a gold record for one of his 80s' hit singles 'Stop That Train'

"That's been the benchmark from the beginning because that's what I've always wanted to do with this company."

Saint, who received a gold disc when Stop That Train was top ten in the charts all over Europe, said he wanted to replicate that success with his new work.

The first song to be released from the album will be one he's recorded with Aiyana called 'We're Coming'. A video is set to come out next week.

Saint said: "The video was done in Luton, using Luton people such as the carnival group Rampage."

"I am trying to put things together with the people that are around me and the community I live in to really show that this is what we can do."

Father is jailed over attack on daughter

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN ANGRY father who attacked his daughter with an iron after she secretly married has been jailed for three years.

Malik Khan, 60, of Dunstable Road, Luton, pleaded guilty to assaulting his daughter, Maserat Khan, occasioning her actual bodily harm.

He has been made the subject of a restraining order, which means he must not have any contact with her.

Luton Crown Court heard that on March 4 this year Khan's daughter married in secret to an illegal immigrant here in the UK.

Neil King, prosecuting, said she knew her family would have disapproved of the marriage and shortly afterwards she moved to live with the groom in Nottingham.

When the girl's family heard that she had been beaten by her new husband, her parents went to Nottingham and brought her back.

But just hours after the daughter had returned home, her father overheard her talking to his sister and saying she missed her husband.

Mr King said on hearing this, the father snapped and grabbed an iron.

He began striking her with it, telling her the marriage had brought shame on the family.

Recorder Crane was told Khan had struck his daughter about her head, arms and legs and had briefly tried to choke her before walking away.

All this, the court heard, took place in the presence of his two young grandchildren.

The court heard since the attack on April 27 of this year, the father has had no contact with his daughter.

Tim Clarke, defending, said the attack had occurred after the dad had snapped on overhearing his daughter and that it was not an 'honour-based' crime.

He said the groom had been an illegal immigrant who it was suspected had got married in order to remain in the UK.

Mr Clarke said Khan now bitterly regretted his actions that day.

Passing sentence, Recorder Crane told Khan that she had seen pictures of the bruises left by the attack.

She told him: "They are large, deep and very nasty bruises."

She also told Khan he had been shaking with rage as he attacked his daughter and went on: "You told her she had ruined the family name."

"She should have been able to trust you as her father."

'Pride in Dunstable' is a hit

THE CENTRAL Bedfordshire Council (CBC) organised 'Pride in Dunstable' event came to the town on Friday.

The well-received event (pictured) ran from 9.30am-4pm at the ASDA car park, The Market and across Downside.

A number of CBC teams were on hand to provide information and services ranging from bicycle repairs to police security coding.

On the event, CBC Cllr Brian Spurr, Executive Member for Community Services, said: "Engaging with communities across Central Bedfordshire is very important to the Community Safety Partnership."

"It offers us the chance to get information to the public, but it is also an opportunity for residents to raise issues."

CBC aim to do several 'Pride in' events each year, with Stotfold, Houghton Regis and now Dunstable having hosted events this year.

School kids given free 'starter' pack

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LOCAL charity has given 1,250 four-year-old children starting school a free stationery pack including a book written by a Luton primary school teacher.

The pack, supplied by the Level Trust, contains items such as glue, scissors and paper, as well as a book called 'Boris The Brave And His First Day At School'.

An event at Whitefield Primary School was held to mark the project's launch.

The book was written for the charity by Jess Rowlands, a teacher at Norton Road Primary School and illustrated by local artist Sophie Carpenter.

It tells the story of Boris, a little boy scared of starting

Children at 14 schools were given an educational stationery pack school in Luton.

Level Trust director Jane Malcolm said: "27 per cent of children in Luton live in relative poverty and that sometimes means that children do not have access to basic things such as books and stationery for learning at home."

"Our educational packs, given to every foundation child across 14 schools, will ensure that whatever background a child is from they will have everything they need to thrive and face their few first days at school as bravely as Boris."

Social care needs from smoking cost £1.8m

NEW figures have shown that smoking-related social care needs are costing Luton council over £1.8 million.

The numbers came from work by the economist Howard Reed of Landman Economics and it shows the estimated cost of smoking to council care budgets. Smokers aged 50+ are far more likely than 'never smokers' to have care needs (around nine years earlier than average).

The cost to the council from increased social care needs is over £1.8 million and the cost to self-funders (people who pay for their own care) is nearly £1.4 million.

Cllr Mahmood Hussain said:

"Reducing the number of smokers means less of the council's budget has to be diverted to smoking related illness, and places less of a burden on loved ones to provide self-funded care."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows.

The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Anger as school plan gets the green light

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

PLANNING permission for a school expansion has been passed, to the outrage of local residents.

The expansion to Stopsley High School was confirmed on Wednesday, with people up in arms about the location of the new buildings.

A member of the opposition group, Philip Darnell, 50, of St Thomas's Road said: "I'm totally gutted, disappointed, angry and moreover I am gobsmacked by the decision."

The group were opposed to the location of the expansion site due to the proximity to the backs of houses on St Thomas's and Mixes Hill Road.

A Luton Borough Council spokeswoman said: "The Council's Development Control Committee considered very carefully all the relevant planning considerations, representations made by local residents and the views expressed by local ward councillors at the meeting.

"Committee members were aware of the relationship of the proposed building with the neighbouring properties and an inspection of the site was also undertaken before the meeting.

"However, having taken into account the alternative options available for the siting of the building, the committee took the view that the location of the building as proposed was acceptable and the decision was reached that planning permission should be granted."

Who will be held to account?

SIR – Will anyone at Luton Borough Council ever be held to account for the mess they're making of our town? Will they be pilloried for building on every last blade of grass while acres of brownfield sites cry out for development? Will their portraits be displayed in the pubs of the villages their developments of "affordable housing" for "local people" destroyed? Or will someone see sense before it's too late?

No doubt someone from LBC will answer these questions with a well developed essay by a highly paid consultant, and explain how developing brownfield sites, despite £3m of government money put aside for such projects, is far too expensive (not that it stopped Dunstable council from building on the old AC Delco site or land once occupied by warehouses).

Luton is now a commuter town, so why not build houses at Power Court? It's central and within easy walking distance of the railway station. So too is the site of Vauxhall motors, currently earmarked for hotel and/or car showroom/and or car park/and or associated community and/or leisure and/or retail facilities to meet the needs of the immediate locality.

It seems to me that one or more of our councillors need to get up from behind their comfortable desks and do an audit of the derelict sites currently blighting the Luton skyline. They can then write up a social housing plan that not only solves the housing problem but also leaves the surrounding

What is the motorway limit?

SIR – I thought that the speed limit on motorways was 70mph – but apparently not on the M1 between junctions 10 and 11 where invariably the limit is 60mph.

Southbound, I often join the M1 at J11 around 6am – traffic is free flowing but speed limit is 60mph – reaching J10, where more traffic joins, this being morning rush, the 60mph speed limit disappears and we all move to 70mph.

In the evenings, northbound, I return at around 7.30pm – we travel north-bound from the M25 at 70mph, traffic leaves at junctions 8, 9 and 10, but at junction 10 the 60mph speed limit reappears.

Can this be for safety reasons – hardly, this restriction didn't happen when the M1 north of J10 was just three lanes and now with the benefit of four lanes it has the same capacity as the motorway further south (and anyway, we were promised that "hard shoulder running was not any kind of compromise!").

So this just leaves the conclusion that the M1 between junctions 10 and 11 is some sort of "fund raiser" for the Highways Agency and/or the government – let's see how many we can catch ignoring the 60mph signs. Or is there something I have failed to understand?

countryside unscathed.

We all know "affordable housing" is a euphemism for slums of the future and that they are only affordable to "local" people in gainful employment. Luton needs social (council) housing first. Private housing will, in most cases, be purchased by property developers who will then inflate rents which will run most genuine locals away from the town until there's nothing left of Luton but gridlock and pollution. Oh, hang on a minute, thanks to previously mismanaged traffic management projects gridlock and pollution is here already.

No doubt, one day, someone from LBC will be held to account.

Time for England to be heard

SIR – Now is the time for the people of England, Wales and Northern Ireland to be heard. The people living in Scotland voted overwhelmingly to remain in the United Kingdom. I and the vast majority of people in the United Kingdom are relieved and delighted that it will not be broken up.

It would have been tragic for the union between England and Scotland to be cast aside after over 300 years. It has been most beneficial for both sides. Just as the people of Scotland will receive extra power on their issues of tax, choices of spending and welfare (they already control NHS Scotland) then it is only right that an equitable settlement should apply to England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

The people of Scotland have had their say and now the millions of people in England should be heard.

Political correctness has made it almost a taboo to mention the word England or English. I agree with David Cameron that English laws should be voted on by only English MPs.

Ed Miliband rejects plans to stop Scottish MPs voting on English laws. The leader of the Labour Party refuses to support David Cameron's plan to stop Scottish MPs voting on English laws despite seeming to agree it was not fair. Instead he proposes a constitutional convention to discuss the issue after the general election and if Miliband wins the election the concepts will be kicked into the long grass and forgotten.

Do our two Labour MPs feel it is fair that Scottish MPs can vote on laws for the rest of the UK?

As someone once said, changing the constitution should mimic porcupines making love: very slowly and very carefully.

You would not think so, listening to some politicians.

The Conservatives, who must be vying for the most cynical, least principled government ever, and that is saying something, especially after Blair, are trying to grab political advantage out of near disaster.

They nearly let the union slip, with a breathtaking indifference, until at the last moment when they realised the vote might be lost.

It must have hurt a bit though, as they had to reach for Gordon Brown to help save them.

Still, following their salvation through the hands of others, they are now trying to use their desperate promises of further devolution to possibly save their jobs in England.

What they want is an English Parliament, or Home Rule, and they want it quickly, before anyone thinks of all the pitfalls. Of course, central to their thinking is that they would have an inbuilt majority in England, whatever happens across the country as a whole.

So, whatever mad policy

Change to benefit all, not just the few they think up can be inflicted on England, irrespective of who the government of the day might be.

Pretty shallow, you might think. More importantly, difficult to deliver.

The main focus of a constitution should be to deliver fairness, honesty and stability, through the democratic process.

But if a government comes to power and is unable to deliver some of its manifesto promises in England, it risks looking shabby, so, depending on the policy's importance, chooses either to over-rule the English Parliament, or dissolves the government and calls for fresh elections.

Either way unstable government is the consequence.

Of course some Little Englanders may be happy, as we will be like Belgium, forever fighting over constitutional matters and to hell with the people.

But for the British Isles as a whole it will be a mess.

Of course there may be solutions, which could be to only devolve those matters that are not important, or not politically divisive, but that is unlikely to satisfy the home rulers.

As with the EU, not much will satisfy them, as any concession will lead to further demands.

So let us be patient and do it right.

And while we're at it, how about a bit more power and democracy in the regions.

And also at Westminster, with maybe an elected second chamber.

Better still one where ordinary people are chosen, as in juries, to serve a term, an idea I have long pushed.

That could bring radical change, not just to policies but to how those in power see us and we see them.

So yes let's have change but thought through for the benefit of all, not a quick fix for the benefit of a few.

FINISHED: Dave celebrating at the end of his journey

Marathon man at end of his journey

LUTON'S 'Man in a Shack' Dave Hall has completed his charity challenge of running the length of the UK.

Mr Hall, 50, completed his journey in 41 days, running 'a marathon a day', from John O' Groats to Lands End.

He also slept in a shanty town-style shack to raise awareness of the living conditions in Sierra Leone.

Mr Hall said: "I'm proud to have done this. Since I started the situation over there has just got worse so I am glad to have raised over £75,000 so far."

Four arrests after sex and drugs raids

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE arrested four people during raids in connection with illegal drugs and on-street sex activities.

Officers, acting on information collated over months of investigation, said a quantity of what appeared to be Class A and B drugs were recovered. These will be sent for forensic examination but are believed to be heroin, crack cocaine and cannabis.

One man, aged 59, from Brook Street, High Town, was arrested on 'Suspicion of drug trafficking' and 'Suspicion of causing or inciting prostitution for gain'.

A 26-year-old woman was also arrested at the same address on 'Suspicion of possessing a Class A drug'.

Two men – aged 37 and 42 – were also arrested at a property in Nightingale Close on 'Suspicion of Being Concerned in the Supply of Class A Drugs'.

Luton's Community & Partners Chief Inspector, Jaki

Whittred, who led the raids, said: "Illegal drugs activity in High Town has an intrinsic link to the street sex trade which blights the lives of those who live, work and visit the area."

"Bedfordshire Police remains committed to working with partner agencies and residents in the area to break this cycle of crime."

Anyone who needs help, advice or has information relating to this can contact Bedfordshire Police on 101 or contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Half marathon is

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE countdown is on to the Love Luton half marathon – with the big day just a month away.

The 13.1-mile race returns on Sunday, October 26 on a route around the town.

The course starts in Stockwood Park and then goes down Cutenhoe Road before turning into the Luton Hoo grounds.

The runners will then loop around the grounds and out, turning onto Gypsy Lane before joining Old Bedford Road.

The route then heads down Old Bedford Road, through Wardown Park before returning to the road and then briefly joins New Bedford Road through Kingsdown Avenue.

Then it is onto Barnfield Road and Ringwood Road, before weaving around the Rookery Drive area.

After that, the route re-joins Old Bedford Road and then it is straight to the finish by the town hall.

Following issues experienced last year with road closures, alterations have been made this year.

A spokeswoman for Love Luton said: "At the start, the entire course will be closed.

"The half marathon begins at 10am and runners will have a maximum of three hours to finish.

"A fully qualified and experienced convoy will follow the race and will lift the road closures as soon as it is safe to do so, allowing traffic to flow as normal.

"All road closures will be lifted by no later than 1:30pm.

"We appreciate that shutting the roads may slightly impact on motorists, but safety is paramount and we ask that residents come out and support runners as they travel past."

Stopsley Striders, a local running group, will be helping to ensure the half marathon runs smoothly by marshalling at the event.

A spokesperson from the club said: "We were pleased to be asked by Love Luton to contribute to the delivery of the half marathon event."

"As organisers of the Luton Marathon for many years, the event became unsustainable as we had safety concerns with the increased

DEAL: Fire chief Paul Fuller and Jonathan Hayes of Moto

Fire service signs new agreement

THE Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service (BFRS) has signed a safety partnership agreement with Moto Hospitality Ltd (Moto), the provider of motorway services across the UK.

The agreement is one of the first to be signed nationally under a new government scheme designed to help fire services offer fire safety advice to firms with multiple sites across the country.

Moto has 58 separate sites on motorways all over the country and is based in Toddington.

Teen has term for burglary reduced

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A 16-YEAR-OLD jailed for 12 years for a burglary in which a man was stabbed has had his sentence cut to ten years.

The boy was one of three raiders who broke into the house of Tony Abrahams, 48, in Wellfield Avenue, Luton, last November.

Mrs Justice Laing told London's Appeal Court that the teen slipped through a window and his two older accomplices stormed through the house while the occupants slept. They took cash and a gold watch.

When Mr Abrahams confronted them he was attacked and stabbed, suffering a collapsed lung and pierced bowel which left him needing extensive emergency surgery.

The youth was jailed after being convicted of wounding with intent and burglary and being cleared of attempted murder. He was given a five-year 'extended period of licence', leaving him liable to prison recall if he puts a foot wrong after leaving jail.

None of his accomplices have been brought to justice.

The youth's legal team claimed his 12-year term was far too tough in light of his youth.

Mrs Justice Laing, sitting with Lord Justice Fulford and Mr Justice Wilkie, noted the teen had a previous conviction for attempted robbery, and had shown "no remorse".

However, she concluded that the original 12-year term took insufficient account of his youth.

University 'delighted' by open day visitors

MORE than 2,300 people visited the University of Bedfordshire for the first open day of the year.

On Wednesday students came from colleges across the country, including locals from Barnfield College, to find out more about what courses are on offer at the university's town centre campus.

Vice Chancellor Bill Rammell said he was 'delighted' with the attendance and hoped that the students would return for study next year.

Deal agreed to cut pay by 30 per cent

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

STAFF at Luton-based airline Monarch have taken pay cuts of up to 30 per cent to help secure the airline's future.

The move was announced on Wednesday following discussions between Monarch and representatives of BAPLA, the pilots' union, and UNITE, which represents its cabin crew and engineers.

The airline is reported to be trying to change from being a charter carrier to being a low-cost airline competing with the likes of easyJet.

On Tuesday Monarch confirmed that it was in talks with investor Greybull Capital to sell a majority stake in the company.

Andrew Swaffield, Monarch Group CEO, said the agreement to lower pay, along with changes to working patterns and other conditions, was 'another step forward' in the company's transformation.

He said: "News that staff accept changes to their terms and conditions, including considerable reductions in salaries, is a further, significant step in our efforts to complete our proposed transaction [with Greybull Capital].

"Further hurdles are still to be overcome, however we have also secured major agreements with aircraft lessors and commitments on future investment from Greybull.

"This is firm progress for Monarch, its employees and its customers."

Festival raises £5k for cancer charity

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

VILLAGERS have raised more than £5,000 for charity from a music festival – almost double what they achieved last year.

The 'Studhambury' festival raised £5,111 for cancer care support charity CLIC Sargent at The Red Lion pub.

The first event, last year, was inspired by Studham resident Heston Harris, 18, who was diagnosed with cancer two years ago.

He has since been given the all clear, but because of the care he received from the charity, the people wanted to give something back to CLIC Sargent.

On how this year's event went, organiser Annie Milne said: "It was brilliant, even better than the first event last year."

"Around 400 people came to this year's event, around double the number from last year."

"We raised £2,700 last year and set a target of £3,500 this year, which we smashed."

"This is partly down to us moving the event from the end of September to the August Bank Holiday Sunday, meaning people had the Monday to recover!"

A number of talented local musicians performed at the event and a hog roast was supplied, with all profits going to the charity.

Given this year's success, plans for another are already underway.

Mrs Milne added: "We're definitely planning on another event next year; it would be hard not to seeing as it's CLIC Sargent's 10th anniversary."

CLIC Sargent fundraising manager Harriet Young said: "I am delighted to thank all of the residents of Studham for your fantastic support; you really will help us make a difference to the life of a child who has cancer and their family."

Family feud killer has sentence cut

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN who killed his sister-in-law over a family feud has had his sentence cut following an appeal.

John Evans, 57, of Trent Road, was given life with a minimum of 22 years after repeatedly stabbing his sister-in-law, Mary Evans, 70, in her car in November last year.

His sentence has been reduced to 20 years and 10 months following an appeal at London's Appeal Court.

Mr Justice Wilkie said the backdrop of the attack was a long and acrimonious family dispute dating back to 1987, when Evans was given a three-year term after being convicted of his mother's attempted murder.

The court heard the pair later reconciled and by the time of her death in October last year had become 'very close'. Evans cared for his mother during the day while his brother, David Evans, who lived with their mother, looked after her at night.

The court heard the brothers had a venomous relationship which worsened when Evans learned David planned to sell the home he had shared with his mother. David and Mary planned to sell up and move away to start a new life.

At the Appeal Court, Evans' lawyers challenged the length of his 22-year minimum term.

Mr Justice Wilkie, sitting with two other judges, underlined the attack's savagery but ruled that Evans had received insufficient credit for his guilty plea.

CARE VISITS AT HOME

We care passionately

On the 04/06/2014 staff at bluebird care Luton took a few of the customers out to the St. Albans garden centre for an afternoon tea of which they all enjoyed. One customer was very happy to get out as she is unable to do so without a companion. We also took with us the wife of a customer that we care for so she can have a break and be able to socialise with other people.

The purpose for this outing was to enable our customers the chance to access the outside community and to interact with other people as they spend most of the time in doors due to lack of mobility and other health issues that may restrict them from doing daily activities that they would enjoy.

What we offer

We offer everything from personal care to shopping, cleaning or social visits. In fact everything you need to stay in the comfort of your own home.

Alternative

Bluebird Care offers a realistic cost effective alternative to residential care. With familiar friends, relatives and possessions around, Bluebird Care 'Just happens'.

Building partnership with the community

THE role of Police and Crime Commissioner for Bedfordshire was always going to be a tough challenge, and so it has proved on so many different levels.

But when I see the priorities I have agreed with Chief Constable Colette Paul starting to be delivered it makes it all worthwhile.

The recent passing out parade for our 65 new officers was certainly the high point of my tenure thus far, delivering on my pledge to do all I can to protect frontline policing.

Indeed 94 per cent of our officers deployed in 'visible frontline roles' according to the policing watchdog HM Inspectorate of Constabularies' definition, are providing the visible policing that the public tell me they value so much.

This visibility is enhanced by the ever-increasing number of Special Constables, despite the fact that several have left to become full-time officers.

I am assured that my plans to double the number of Specials are on track and I would personally like to thank all those volunteers

Bedfordshire's Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins on building a strong partnership between police and community who make such a difference to our policing resilience.

Reversing the Police Authority's decision to cut the number of PCSOs in the county by a third has also protected the frontline policing presence.

It did necessitate a small increase in the amount of Council Tax, but people had told me that they were prepared to pay a little more money to keep officers and PCSOs out in their communities.

When I arrived the force was on course to achieve the Government's savings target and was still managing to cut recorded crime, but that was coming at a cost.

People had told me that Bedfordshire Police was becoming remote, and far less visible in our communities, and I know the frontline was stretched almost to breaking point.

When I first appointed Chief Constable Colette Paul

we set a plan that enabled the crimes that matter most to people such as burglary, robbery and serious violence to be tackled; and would ensure that Bedfordshire police was more visible, whilst still making the savings needed due to government funding reductions.

Well, it's happening. In addition, progress has been made to improve the diversity of our police; there will be a step change in the technology our police use; issues such as hate crime have been prioritised; and an innovative approach has been taken in order to improve services for victims of crime in the county.

All these changes are helping to build a stronger partnership between local communities and their police. That's why whatever the future holds I will take satisfaction from the impact I have had on policing in Bedfordshire.

Inner Vision aim to help blind people feel more confident

LIVE MUSIC

Inner Vision Orchestra
Luton Library Theatre
Thursday October 25, 8.10

A GROUP of professional and amateur musicians will be performing in Luton next month, with one thing in common – all of the members are blind.

The Inner Vision Orchestra (pictured), fronted by world renowned multi-instrumentalist Baluji Shrivastav, will play the Library Theatre as part of their second UK tour.

On the band's history, Mr Shrivastav said: "We have 10 blind people from across the world performing in Inner Vision, from as far afield as Japan and Nigeria.

"Despite our multicultural background, I met all of the members of the project in London," added Mr Shrivastav, who is Indian.

On why he founded the group, Mr Shrivastav said: "The aim of Inner Vision is to help blind people feel more confident.

"I've seen members increase in confidence since they joined and some, who were unemployed before, have got work as a result of that boost."

"As long as you're blind and interested in being a part of what we're doing, you can join.

"Our performances aren't just about musicianship; it's as much about how you present yourself on stage as it is about the music."

This will be the band's second UK tour, after their first last year and a tour of London in 2012.

They have also travelled to India for performances.

"We want this to become a world-wide thing, to show blind people across the world they too can find confidence despite their disability," added Mr Shrivastav.

The band has just released their first album, titled Inner Vision.

On what you can expect from their performances, Mr Shrivastav said: "What you will find in our shows is a different kind of music to what most usually experience, with a variety of ages, ethnicities, influences and languages in our show.

"As we are blind, we have to play by feeling alone.

"Sighted people can see each other's signals and know when a song is coming to an end, we have to feel that and as such we have to have a greater relationship and connection during shows."

The tour will also coincide with a film titled 'Inner Vision,' by Cecile-Marie Embleton, which you can find out more about by visiting <https://www.facebook.com/innervisionfilm>

The project will be made during the tour and focus on the band and the stories and struggles of the individual members.

Tickets can be booked through www.lutonculture.com or call 01582 878100.

Take a journey into wonderland with new play

Alice

The Hat Factory, Luton

Saturday November 1, 2pm and 4pm

TOLD through a mix of live action, puppetry and music, this play is an adaptation of Lewis Carroll's iconic story Alice In Wonderland – but not quite as you know it.

The year is 1915 and it is the midst of the First World War.

Alice, taking shelter in a dusty cellar while bombs rain down above her, rediscovers her past down the rabbit hole with her son Alan, a soldier, as both attempt to escape the madness of war.

The pair take the famous imaginary journey, returning them to a wonderland full of talking rabbits, mad hatters and savage queens.

Starring Mandy Travis, who has performed in Les Misérables on the West End, as Alice and Jack Parker as Alan, the show relies extensively on puppetry to bring its secondary characters to life.

This is the show's second UK tour this year, having made its debut outside of London on a seven-week tour in May and June.

The play is produced by London-based Metta Theatre, who have a quickly growing reputation for pushing boundaries in the industry, performing anywhere from some of the UK's most famous venues to playgrounds.

Previous productions by the company have received critical acclaim up and down the country. Alice is no exception, earning plaudits on its last UK tour.

The Luton date features the final performances of the shows across the south of England and the last chance for audiences to take part in the magical journey.

The show has a suggested audience age of 11+ and tickets can be bought from www.lutonculture.com/thehatfactory/whatson

A journey through the songs of Eva Cassidy at the Grove

LIVE MUSIC

Songbird: The Music of Eva Cassidy
The Grove Theatre, Dunstable
7.30pm, Sunday October 12
£19.50

CELEBRATING the music and the life of one of the most powerful voices in modern music, a show dedicated to the late Eva Cassidy is coming to Dunstable.

Titled Songbird, the production will take you on a journey through Eva's career in the 80s and 90s.

Supported by a live band and video footage, this show brings to life classic Cassidy arrangements of some of the great songs of the 20th century.

Cassidy died at the age of just 33 as a result of cancer in 1996.

Whilst she was well known in the Washington DC area, outside of the city she was almost unheard of.

In 1998, a collection of material was compiled posthumously which was almost unknown for two years until a copy ended up in the hands of former BBC Radio 2 breakfast presenter Terry Wogan.

After the album, titled Songbird, was aired by Wogan, Cassidy shot to fame and the album charted at number one.

Fame in the United States and then worldwide followed, with Cassidy now being ranked as one of the top selling artists of all time.

The show is presented by Sarah-Jayne Buckley, who has already made her name as one of the world's leading interpreters of Eva Cassidy, with particular praise being made of the expertise with which Buckley plays the legendary singer.

Review by Rachael West

LIAM NEESON has taken the action thriller role to heart and his latest outing as Matt Scudder is no exception.

A Walk Among the Tombstones follows Scudder, an ex-NYPD cop operating outside the law, who reluctantly agrees to help a drug trafficker hunt down the men who kidnapped and murdered his wife.

Scudder soon learns that this is not the first brutal crime these men have committed.

Now it's a race against time through New York's backstreets to catch them before they kill again.

Away from the bright lights of New York City the grimy urban setting and graffiti-covered streets of Brooklyn, with a few run down apartments thrown in, make for some atmospheric viewing.

But while the setting is enough to send chills down your spine the story, unfortunately, is less assured. Scenes of graphic torture try to mask the film's weak plot with shock factor but it does little to help the story move along.

Neeson is the typical flawed anti-hero (you know the type) with a failed American accent and no suspense to his character, although that's not his fault.

We know he's going to catch the bad guys; it's just a question of when.

Neeson does manage to pull off a compelling performance and adds a flare of drama as the leading man.

He's rough around the edges and suits the role of a secretive sleuth in a gritty setting perfectly.

Unfortunately the rest falls a bit flat for a film that's meant to be a crime thriller.

Trying to cram all the intricate twists and suspense from Lawrence Block's novel into two hours requires tactful editing, which is missing here.

What we're left with is a great performance from Neeson with the occasional shock hitting you in the pit of your stomach, but everything else lets it down.

Iconic 'punk poet' performing at the Stables next month

POETRY

John Cooper Clarke
The Stables, Wolverton, Milton Keynes
Sunday October 5, 8pm

The legendary 'punk poet' John Cooper Clarke will be making an appearance at The Stables at the start of next month.

Coming out of the punk scene in the 1970s, he performed alongside The Sex Pistols, The Buzzcocks and Siouxsie and the Banshees among others. And he remains relevant today, giving him an accessibility to a younger audience along with longtime fans.

This was seen most notably after his poem 'I Wanna Be Yours' was adapted by Arctic Monkeys' frontman Alex Turner to appear on their fifth album AM, released last year.

As people familiar with Clarke will well know, this show may contain adult content and strong language and as such it is listed as being suitable for those aged 16 and over.

Tickets are limited for this event, with just seat cancellations left. Contact 01908 280800 to book.

Win a trip for two to Paris

COMPETITION

TO CELEBRATE Madama Butterfly coming to The Grove Theatre in November, you could win a trip to Paris.

The opera tells the story of a young Japanese girl named Cio Cio San who falls in love with an American naval lieutenant, Pinkerton.

However, Pinkerton is advised by an American consul that this could have devastating results, which proves to be true.

The production stars Korean soprano Elena Dee, Japanese singer Miki Mori and Russian Zinevych, along with a 70-strong company.

All great operas have a love story at their core and one lucky reader has the opportunity to win a romantic two night break for two people in the French capital Paris, courtesy of Ellen Kent and Opera & Ballet International.

The lucky winner will travel on the Eurostar from London to Paris, stay for two nights B&B in a beautiful 4 star hotel, and enjoy a romantic meal for two plus a pair of tickets to an Ellen Kent Production 2015 Spring UK tour at the venue of their choice.

Three readers will win tickets to see Madama Butterfly at The Grove.

To be in with a chance, answer this simple question.

Where is La Traviata set?

a) London

b) Paris
c) Skegness

Reply to: win@ellenkent.co.uk, or by post to Opera & Ballet International, Broome Quarry House, Canterbury Rd, Kent, CT2 6QU.

PRESS RELEASE

SEPTEMBER 2014

Connells announces arrival of Walnut Grove

Local estate agency Connells in Dunstable is excited to announce the arrival of seven new homes at Walnut Grove, situated just off Park Road in Dunstable.

On the market from £275,000, all seven, three-bedroom homes offer fully fitted kitchens, turfed gardens and two en-suites. Located in a quiet area of the town just a five minute walk from the high street, Walnut Grove is expected to be popular with local home buyers in and around Dunstable.

"We are really excited by the interest we've already seen in the new homes at Walnut Grove," says Branch Manager for Connells in Dunstable, Vinny Diruberto. "The market has started to pick up again after the annual 'summer slowdown' and although there is some larger new homes sites in the town buyers have been attracted to the exclusivity Walnut Grove has to offer."

Vinny is urging interested buyers to get in touch with his Connells team sooner rather than later if they want to book a viewing at Walnut Grove: "We've already seen a great deal of interest in the development from potential buyers," Vinny continues. "Walnut Grove's location and size make it an attractive new development for local home buyers so I would urge anybody who is interested in booking a viewing to do so as quickly as possible."

If you have a property to sell and would like to arrange a free market appraisal with Connells, then call the Dunstable branch on 01582 661 265 or email: dunstable@connells.co.uk

Central Bedfordshire Council

Withdrawal of the Gypsy and Traveller Local Plan

In June 2014 Central Bedfordshire Council's draft Gypsy and Traveller Local Plan was submitted to the Secretary of State for Examination by an independent Planning Inspector. However on 11 September 2014 the Council withdrew the draft Local Plan, as the Inspector raised numerous issues and questions about the document.

The Examination Hearings (which were due to take place between Tuesday 23 September and Wednesday 1 October 2014) have therefore been cancelled.

The Council remains committed to the preparation and adoption of a plan which will meet the needs of the Gypsy and Traveller community. We will publish updates on the Gypsy and Traveller Local Plan on our website in the coming months.

If you wish to discuss the content of this notice, please contact the Strategic Planning and Housing Team on 0300 300 8307 or email ldf@centralbedfordshire.gov.uk.

RINGING THE CHANGES

There are hot hatches that are built for posing and polishing and then there's the SEAT Leon Cupra 280 with SUB8 Performance Pack. This one wants a flogging. It's hugely rapid and if you want the most heroic hot hatch on track, you really can't do a lot better.

The Leon Cupra 280 is a beast. It's a hot hatch with dementedly hard edge. Even in standard guise it'll punch its way to 62mph in just 5.8 seconds and it'll shave a tenth off that if you choose the DSG twin-clutch gearbox. Top speed is limited to 155mph although it would be interesting to see how fast it would go before physics intervened.

The SUB8 pack doesn't deliver any additional power or torque but focuses instead on fine tuning the driveability of the Leon. Providing stopping power in keeping with the car's potency, the brake discs, at 370mm, are 30mm larger than on the standard car and include Brembo four piston callipers; just what you need for the big braking zone at Aremberg. The Cupra 280's electronically-controlled limited slip differential, already delivers impressive levels of grip but, for those discerning owners seeking the ultimate, especially on track, semi-slick Michelin Pilot Sport Cup 2 tyres are available for £460. Notably, that's £540 less than those available on hot hatch rival Megane Renaultsport 275 Trophy. If you want the best from the Leon it needs this rubber. Thus equipped, will it go round the 'Ring in under eight minutes? Probably not, as the 'record setting' car cheated a bit, being stripped of weighty items like air conditioning, but it would be fun trying.

The SEAT Leon 280 is a real force to be reckoned with. Yes, its cousins the Volkswagen Golf R and the Audi S3 probably make better buys as fast road cars, but the SEAT's heart remains on the track and here is a vehicle designed to absorb a heck of a battering. Add the SUB8 pack, with its bigger brakes, and you get a real monster. Go further and add the sticky Michelin semi-slick tyres and the racing bucket seats and you have a car that despite its practical side, has something of the junior exotic about it.

Oxbridge double as

LEAGUE TWO
LUTON TOWN
OXFORD UNITED

A LIGHTNING fast start helped Luton claim the scalp of Oxford United and saw them to their first consecutive victories after returning to the Football League.

Having despatched Cambridge United last weekend this success completed an Oxbridge double of sorts, started when the Hatters took the lead after just 80 seconds.

Luke Wilkinson bagged his first goal for the club on his 24th birthday but the scoreline tells a different story to a match that was controlled in large portions by an Oxford side who just could not open up the hosts' resolute defence, which has now recorded four clean sheets in a row.

Chances for Town – who had been blighted by a sickness bug in the camp this week – were few and far between but on 66 minutes Jake Howells converted the rebound from his own saved spot-kick to put the seal on three points – a haul that moves Town up to tenth in League Two and level on points with Shrewsbury in the last play-off place.

The victory also stretched Luton's unbeaten run to four games and saw a debut for recently signed former Bradford midfielder Nathan Doyle, while Shaun Whalley was given his first appearance of the campaign since recovering from a foot injury.

Both had played in Tuesday's 2-2 development squad draw at Portsmouth and they joined Jonathan Smith and Howells in the starting line-up as manager John Still made four changes from the 1-0 win in Cambridge.

The Hatters boss was barely settled into the dugout before his side were ahead when the two goalscorers combined.

Howells picked out birthday boy Wilkinson with a free-kick and the central defender looped a header over the flailing arms of George Long in the United goal.

It should have been 2-0 a minute later but Pelly Ruddock Mpanzu blasted over the bar from eight yards out after benefiting from a fortunate ricochet to find himself through on goal.

The Hatters' shock and awe tactics had United reeling but it didn't last long as the visitors gradually got to grips with the situation after 20 minutes and saw out the remainder of the half as the dominant side, without unduly troubling the Town goal.

Keeper Mark Tyler made one routine save on 15 minutes from Callum O'Dowda – by far Oxford's most dangerous player – and then LUTON were beaten at home 37-18 by Colchester in London 1 North this weekend at Newlands Road, having been all-square, 10-10, at half time.

Ben Murphy opened the scoring for the home side, but the conversion was missed, so Luton led 5-0. Tesh Edwards went over before the break, but Colchester responded with a converted try and a penalty of their own to send the sides in level at the interval.

In the second half, Luton added a penalty and a try, but shipped three tries and a conversion to end the day 17 points behind their guests.

"We were beaten by a pretty decent Colchester side this afternoon," said Luton's chairman Mark Turner. "They were well drilled and organised. We matched them up to half time, but we suffered some injuries in the second half to some key players and I think in the end, fitness told."

Dunstablians travelled to table-topping Wellingborough in Midlands Two East, and emerged victors by the narrowest of margins compliments of a Pete Thompson drop goal at the death to steal the game 25-24.

"We applied some excellent defensive pressure," said Dees centre Scott Warren. "It set the platform for some fantastic counter-attacking rugby."

Dees led 22-17 at the interval thanks to tries from Matt Anderson and Jordan Walker [2], with Kev Boland kicking two conversions and a penalty. The second half saw the home side take the lead with a converted try, which was how it stayed until Thompson snatched the points.

"The substitutions made were inspired," said Warren. "It changed the momentum of the game in our favour, they were top before today."

Stockwood Park were beaten 36-5 by Northampton Casuals at home in Midlands Three East.

Hatters fly from blocks watched as the forward, Danny Rose and Brian Howard all fired wide from distance.

The latter came closest and had the Luton number one scrambling across his line nervously, while Mark Cullen had the hosts' only other chance of note with an ambitious cross-cum-shot on the counter that Long palmed wide for a corner.

After the restart, there was little change to the pattern of Oxford commanding possession and trying their damndest to pick their way through a stubborn Town side.

When that failed to yield results Tyrone Barnett let fly from distance and almost caught out Tyler, though the goalie did well to beat the pile-driver away.

While that was something out of the blue, the U's striker should have levelled up two minutes later when O'Dowda dinked a cross to the back post where the forward conspired to head wide, five yards from goal.

Luck favoured Barnett just after the hour when he jumped over the ball and into a challenge, catching Doyle with his studs. Luton captain Steve McNulty was incandescent with rage but referee Mark Haywood deemed it punishable by a yellow card, much to the derision of Kenilworth Road.

Moments later the mood was lifted considerably when Danny Hylton handled in the penalty area and Howells converted at the second time of asking once Long had guessed correctly to save from the spot.

Deep into six minutes of injury time Barnett could not eke out a consolation for the visitors when he sent a bullet header into the grateful arms of Tyler.

That had come after Town saw out the final 20 minutes in relative comfort once Howells' strike had seen all of Oxford's endeavour drain from their players.

For Luton it was another welcome sign that, though they've not hit the heights of last term's historic title tilt, they are finding a way to win.

Superb Rovers march on in FA Cup as Hemel beat Town

BY MATT DESAI
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

DUNSTABLE Town crashed out of the FA Cup on Saturday, losing to Conference South side Hemel Hempstead Town in the second qualifying round.

Goals either side of the break from Ben Mackey and James Potton secured a relatively straightforward victory for the hosts.

The visitors enjoyed a lot of early possession but were unable to affect the scoreline, and after an even opening half hour, Hemel's superiority began to show.

With just under ten minutes to go until half-time, Potton's cross from the right was met by the head of forward Mackey, who powered home to give the hosts the breakthrough.

The Blues struggled to match their opponents after the interval, and were unable to provide striker Gary Mulligan with many opportunities for an equaliser.

Hemel pushed for a second and Mackey nearly provided, first firing a header just over the bar, before seeing a goal-bound effort blocked.

With sixty-seven minutes on the clock, though, their advantage was eventually doubled. James Simmonds, who had just replaced Mackey, made an immediate impact, and his teasing cross found Potton in the box, who hammered in from close range.

The Tudors had chances to wrap up the tie in emphatic fashion late on, with Simmonds and then Lewis Toomey going close, but they saw the tie out comfortably to progress to the next round.

Elsewhere, Barton Rovers recorded an impressive victory to book their place in the next round, beating Margate 2-1 at Hartsdown Park. Kevin Kilroy and Louis Lee netted for Rovers, either side of Charlie Allen's leveller.

Kilroy gave the visitors the lead on thirty-five minutes, converting from the penalty spot after Keshi Anderson was brought down.

The Gate got themselves back on level terms right at the start of the second half, when forward Allen volleyed in past 'keeper Kyle Forster after Kane Wills' cross.

But Barton had their lead restored inside ten minutes thanks to great work from Lee. After a smart turn, the midfielder's effort nestled in the top corner after taking a slight deflection.

More chances came for both sides in an action-packed second period, with Ryan Moss twice nearly levelling again, but Rovers clung on to seal a fine away win.

Birthday boy Wilkinson heads the perfect gift

HATTERS

BY JAMIE MAY
sport@lntmedia.co.uk

LUKE Wilkinson hopes his first ever strike for Luton is a sign of goalscoring things to come as he celebrated his 24th birthday yesterday with an 80-second header in a 2-0 victory against Oxford United.

The central defender, signed from Dagenham & Redbridge in the summer, found the net with Town's first foray forward, while Jake Howells scored his own penalty rebound in the second half to rubber stamp the Kenilworth Road outfit's second victory on the spin and a fourth game unbeaten.

Wilkinson's goal was a collector's item looping header on any normal day but it was the perfect present to himself.

"It's my birthday," he said, adding: "I'm 24 today so I'm a happy man."

"It's always nice to get a goal but, more importantly, I've helped the team and the team were fantastic to get another three points."

"That's four games unbeaten now and we're putting a nice little run together."

Oxford dominated the contest in terms of possession but Wilkinson and his team-mates rarely looked troubled once his goal had given the side a dream start.

"I like to think I'm a threat going forward for corners and set pieces so hopefully there will be more," he said. "To score early on, it's very pleasing, it helps the team and we get a hold on the game."

As a defender, the clean sheet – a fourth in a row for Luton – was an equally pleasing aspect of a birthday to remember for Wilkinson.

"At the minute we're keeping clean sheets," he said, adding: "That's four on the spin now so we're confident at the back that we're not going to concede goals, it's just putting it in at the other end. We're doing both at the minute."

Hakan Hayrettin revealed afterwards that the squad had been hit with a sickness bug during the week, with only Scott Griffiths and second half substitute Andy Drury recovering enough to play.

"That hampered us quite a bit," said the first team coach. "We've had people with stomach upsets, we've had the flu and we've got a mini epidemic at the club so we had to rethink about the structure of the team today and it worked."

"That's the depth we've got in our squad. We've got some good players coming back from injury and it worked for us today."

"Ideally we'd have had a lot more players to pick from. We didn't but the boys that played were tremendous and great value."
